UCOWR Purpose

The Universities Council on Water Resources (UCOWR) is an organization of universities, non-academic institutions, and international affiliates leading in water resources education, research, and public service. UCOWR members and delegates are at the forefront of water resources related research and education, and represent various fields of natural and social science. In addition to our annual national conference, UCOWR publishes the Journal of Contemporary Water Research & Education.

2007-2008 President	John Tracy
2008-2009 President-Elect	Jay Lund
2008 Conference Chair	Ken Reckhow
Executive Director	Christopher Lant
Program Admin. Assistant	Rosie Gard

Membership Benefits

Annual membership in UCOWR provides considerable benefits, including:

- Hardcopy and Electronic Subscriptions to the Journal of Contemporary Water Research & Education
- Reduced Registration Fees at the UCOWR Annual Conference and access to past proceedings
- Increased Networking Opportunities with Water Resources Leaders in Business, Government, and Academe
- A Voice in the Governance of UCOWR (1 lead delegate and up to 7 additional voting delegates)
